

CIVIL BILL CARES
FOR STATION PLAZAAppropriation of $3,600,000
Added by Senate.

INCREASE OF FIVE MILLION

Sundry Civil Bill, Reported Yesterday, Eliminates Restrictions on Anti-trust Fund for Labor Organizations Prosecution—Derelict Fine Arts Commission Gets $10,000.

The sundry civil bill was reported to the Senate yesterday from the Senate Committee on Appropriations, which increased the appropriations made by the House $5,000,000.

The amount carried by the bill, as reported to the Senate, is $117,468,570, which is some $23,000,000 less than was carried in the sundry civil bill a year ago.

The principal item of increase made by the Senate committee is $3,600,000 for the enlargement of the Capitol grounds. With this appropriation, the purchase of eleven blocks between the Union Station and the Capitol are contemplated.

The appropriation of $100,000 made by the House for the enforcement of the anti-trust law, was increased to $200,000 by the Senate committee, which also struck out the House proviso "that no part of the money shall be spent in the prosecution of any organization or individual, for entering into any combination or agreement having in view the increasing of wages, the shortening of hours, or for any act done in furtherance thereof, not in itself unlawful."

Simmons Amendment Goes Out.

Among the items added by the Senate committee were $250,000 for the improvement of the military post, Camp Keith, Philippine Islands; $75,000 for the boundary commission to settle the dispute between the United States and Great Britain; $10,000 for the fine arts commission of the District of Columbia; and $150,000 for the construction of two revenue cutters.

The committee refused to accept Senator Simmons' amendment, appropriating $100,000 for the use of the Interstate Commerce Commission in ascertaining the physical valuation of railroads.

The Senate made provisions in the bill for the retention of the services of Pitman Puleiser, who for many years has been clerk of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, and compiler of the Navy Year Book.

New Office for Puleiser.

A new office was created under the Secretary of the Senate, at $3,000 a year, to be known as "Compiler of the Navy Year Book and Indexer," to which Mr. Puleiser will be appointed under the terms of the act.

Mr. Puleiser came to Washington from Maine as clerk to Senator Hale. He was clerk of the Naval Affairs Committee while Senator Hale was chairman, and went to the Appropriations Committee when Senator Hale became chairman of the last-named committee on the death of Senator Allison.

The item of $250,000 put in the bill by the House to enable the tariff board to make investigations of tariff schedules, was not disturbed by the Senate committee, and is retained in its original form.

In reporting the bill to the Senate, Senator Hale gave notice that he would ask for its consideration to-day.

VIGOROUS AT 84

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey keeps Mr. James L. Collier strong and healthy, though he is 84 years old. He enjoys restful sleep and has a fine appetite. Did you ever read a more enthusiastic letter from an old gentleman?

JAMES L. COLLIER, 84 YEARS OF AGE.

"I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past ten years, simply as a medicine, as my general health has been very feeble; but its beneficial effects have been such that instead of being a helpless invalid I am able to do all day and night, and have a good appetite. It is the only medicine I have taken for many years past."

"My age is over 84 and I want in all truth to say that I consider my Malt Whiskey a boon to me and will be to all who give it a fair trial, particularly to those who are lacking in vitality and are aging. I most heartily recommend its use as a tonic that is not debilitating in its effects. I will be pleased to answer any queries you may write to me for endorsement of any of my statements." James L. Collier, Athens, Greece Co., N. Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Many men and women who have passed the four-score mark tell the same story as Mr. Collier about what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done toward renewing their youth and keeping them vigorous, hale and hearty, and in possession of all their faculties. As a leading doctor says, the secret of the whole thing is that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, if taken as prescribed, assists in driving out all disease germs, invigorates the brain, enlivens the blood, quickens the circulation, brings restful sleep and prevents decay and old age.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer, or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles. Look for the trade-mark of the "Old Chemist" on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y. for illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice, both sent free.

THE FATEFUL PERIOD.

It is a strange and wondrous time; weird things occur in every clime, and portents do not cease; great comets whirl across the sky, and meteors go whizzing by, and storms disturb the peace. Belated frosts destroyed the fruit and lots of garden sabb to boot, untimely blizzards roar; great ships go crashing on the rocks and founder while the captain walks his weary way ashore. Mount Aetna went and had a fit, and threw up tons of rocks and grit, and cut up pretty bad; a money-laden New York girl turned down a belted British earl, and took a native lad. The sharps who study yonder stars insist that signal fires on Mars are burning every day; and avalanches bury towns, and frightened monarchs lose their crowns—where are we drifting, pray? What mean these wonders, grave and dire, which scourge the earth as though by fire, from Zanzibar to Rome? These things that make the earth career, these rare phenomena? They mean that Tumbo's coming home!

SPEAKER CANNON CALLS A SENATOR TO ORDER

La Follette Visits House and Is Said to Have Encouraged Insurgents in Fight Against Regulars on Railway Bill.

Speaker Cannon came near ordering Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, from the floor of the House yesterday and regular Republicans insist that he should have done so.

As it was, Uncle Joe administered a rebuke that was intended for Mr. La Follette and the Wisconsin insurgent knew it.

It has been the practice of Senator La Follette at critical stages of the insurgents' fight in the House to visit the House chamber, and there give counsel and advice to the Republicans arrayed against the regular organization.

He was on the job when the big fight over the rules was waged in the House in March and he put in an appearance when the railroad bill was taken up and a motion made to refer the measure to conference.

Regulars charge that Senator La Follette prompted the insurgents to make the fight to have the Senate bill accepted by the House in opposition to the regular organization's desire to send it to conference.

When the House met at noon Senator La Follette entered the chamber and took a seat on the Democratic side. Insurgents joined him and there was a conference. Representative Lenroot, an insurgent and a political supporter of Mr. La Follette, led the fight against the organization. In the course of the debate, which lasted for two hours, insurgents consulted Senator La Follette from time to time.

Regular leaders noted what was going on and got very hot over it. At one point in the proceedings there was so much confusion in the chamber that it was impossible for any one to follow the debate.

Rapping the sounding board, Speaker Cannon called for order and announced with some heat that if the gentleman occupying a seat on the floor of the House by courtesy did not cease conversation that the rules would be enforced. Enforcement of the rules in this case would have meant the ejection of some one, and nobody doubted that Uncle Joe had Senator La Follette in mind.

As he spoke Mr. Cannon looked at Senator La Follette and Senator La Follette looked at Mr. Cannon. The Wisconsin Senator soon thereafter left the chamber. A week or so ago Speaker Cannon visited the Senate chamber. He joined a friend there in conversation while Mr. La Follette was delivering a speech. Turning toward the Speaker, Mr. La Follette said that he would desert until the conversation had been concluded. Uncle Joe smiled and retired to a cloakroom.

This incident, together with Senator La Follette's practice of encouraging the insurgents in their fight in the House, it is said, prompted Uncle Joe to call Mr. La Follette to order.

der was committed between the hours of 7:30 and 8 o'clock on the night of March 6.

A grand jury will be summoned either the latter part of this week or early next week to consider eleven criminal cases which will be presented to them June 15 next in the Corporation Court. Judge C. Barley, presiding. The cases are as follows: Walter Skipworth, negro, housebreaking; William Taylor, feloniously cutting John Jeffers; Alfred Lewis, felonious shooting; Robert Smith, negro, shooting Ed Grooms, negro; Ernest Mills, better known as "Babe" Mills, felonious assault on John Duggan; Robert Sorrell, breaking into and entering a warehouse; Frank Wilkins, housebreaking; James Harrison, Lee Drown, and Arthur Burns, boys, entering a house.

Electric Light Inquiry. With the examination of one witness for the city last evening by a special committee of members of the city council appointed to investigate the Alexandria Electric Light Company's contract with the city, the investigation which has been in progress for several nights past came to an end. The committee did not hear any witnesses in behalf of the company. Another meeting of the committee will be held Monday night next, at which time it will formulate its report, which will be presented to the city council for consideration at its meeting, which will be held Tuesday night. It is generally believed that the report will be favorable to the company, inasmuch as no witnesses were heard in behalf of the company.

At 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon there will be a game of baseball between teams composed of Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson lodges of Masons, of this city. Those who will play for Alexandria-Washington Lodge are as follows: Dunbar, Gary, Zachary, Brumback, Cooper, Swann, Pass, and Duffey; for Andrew Jackson Lodge, H. B. Caton, W. E. Latham, Sergts. Roth and Salvers, A. Schwarmann, P. W. Taylor, Preton G. Cockey, S. P. Fisher, and Messrs. Clark and Harper.

Announcement of the following real estate transfers, through the office of J. D. Normy, real estate broker, were made to-day: For Charles P. Webster to Henry P. Kelly, a two-story brick dwelling house on the east side of Lee street between Prince and Duke streets, known as No. 210 South Lee street; four frame houses for Jonathan Matthews to Miss Stella Hohlitzel in the square bounded by Alfred, Patrick, Wolfe, and Wilkes streets.

The funeral of Capt. Albert J. Fair took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon from his residence, 123 Wolfe street. The services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Sevir, pastor of St. Second Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace P. E. Church. The following were the pallbearers: Luther H. Thompson, W. E. Latham, Frederick Kaus, Samuel H. Lunt, George Laycock, and George Fair.

A meeting of the Civic Improvement League will be held Friday evening next, at which time arrangements will be made for an excursion which will be given to Marshall Hall July 8. Proceeds of the excursion will be used in installing benches in the city almshouse.

Mrs. Fannie E. Edelin, wife of Lewis Edelin, died this morning at her home, 1021 Queen street. She was sixty-eight years old and a native of Fredericksburg, Va. Besides her husband, several children survive. Her funeral will take place at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning from St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The excursion given to-day to Marshall Hall, under the auspices of the Alexandria Light Infantry, proved a big success. The evening boat was well patronized.

Gallinger Bill Reported. Senator Gallinger's bill prohibiting corporations in the District from doing business under a name similar to that of another corporation, was favorably reported yesterday from the Senate District Committee.

Laborer Inherits Fortune. Special to The Washington Herald. Covington, Va., June 7.—C. J. Chiles, a day laborer, learned to-day that his uncle, John Bourroughs, of Waco, Tex., died some days ago and left him $50,000. He was located through circulars. He had not seen his uncle for years.

HOUSE.

Yesterday was a day of action in the House. For the first time this session the Republican organization forced the adoption of a special rule. This was on the postal savings bank bill, raising a bar against amendments and limiting debate on the measure to eight hours.

The proceedings that marked the reference of the Senate railroad bill to a committee of conference were continued.

On this proposition the Republican insurgents divided and six Democrats separated from the minority, resulting in the adoption of the motion to refer by a vote of 186 to 162.

Representative Gardner spoke in support of the postal bill, opening the debate.
The House adjourned at 6:37 p. m. until to-day at noon.

UP TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Aero Club Needs $100,000 for College Park Meet.

There will be an aviation meet at College Park next October if the Chamber of Commerce accepts the proposition of the Aero Scientific Club.

If the Chamber of Commerce will back the club to the extent of $100,000, the club will guarantee to have a meet with all the leading American and French aviators participating.

President Young said last night at a meeting of the Chamber, that the 5,000 acres of land at College Park had been obtained, and that a shed will be built at once.

An effort will be made to obtain the second convention of the American Federation of Aviators for Washington. The first convention will be held in New York on June 23.

Bottle Blowers Heard.
Harry Jenkins, of Alton, Ill., was heard yesterday by the Moore food investigation committee on behalf of the executive committee of the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association. He said that bottle blowers did not object to the labeling, except that if exact measurements were required there would be some preference to machine made bottles. The American Bottlers' Association will be heard June 13.
